Growth in Asset Management Business

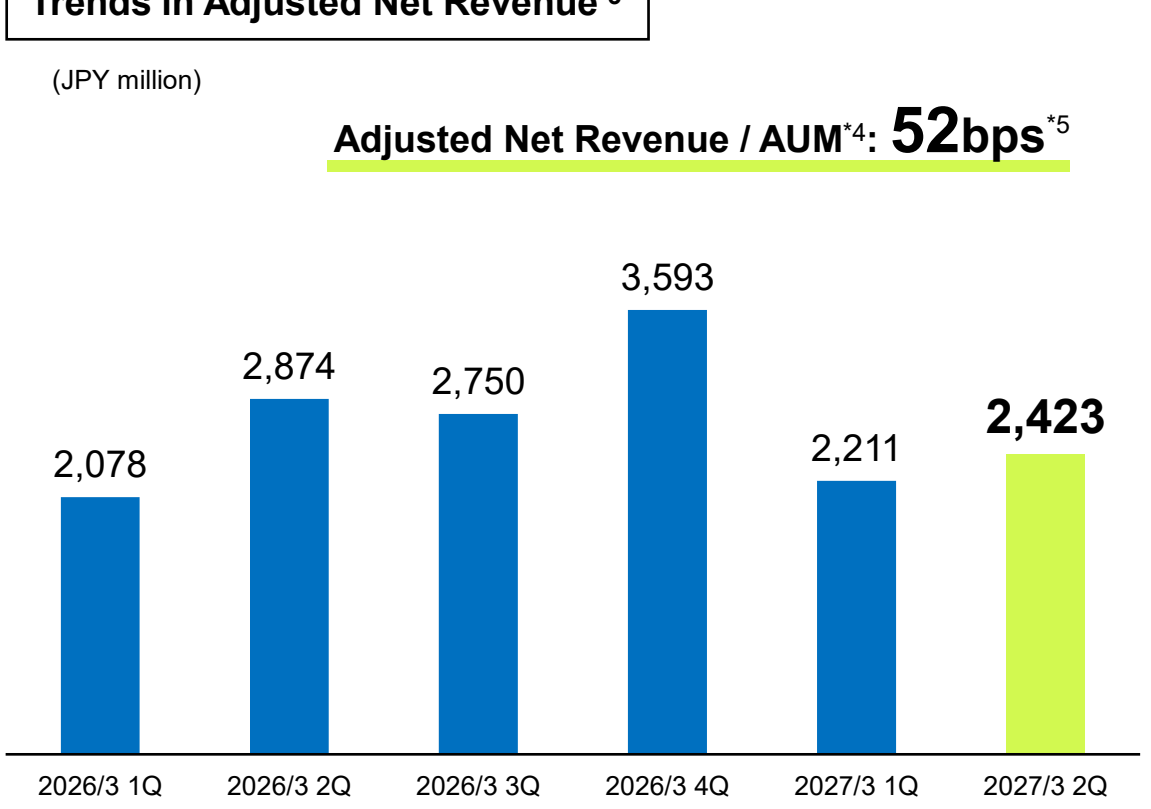

MONEX GROUP

AUM (Assets Under Management) of the asset management business[*1] continues to expand.
Profitability relative to AUM remains at a solid level.

Trends in AUM[*2]

Trends in Adjusted Net Revenue[*3]

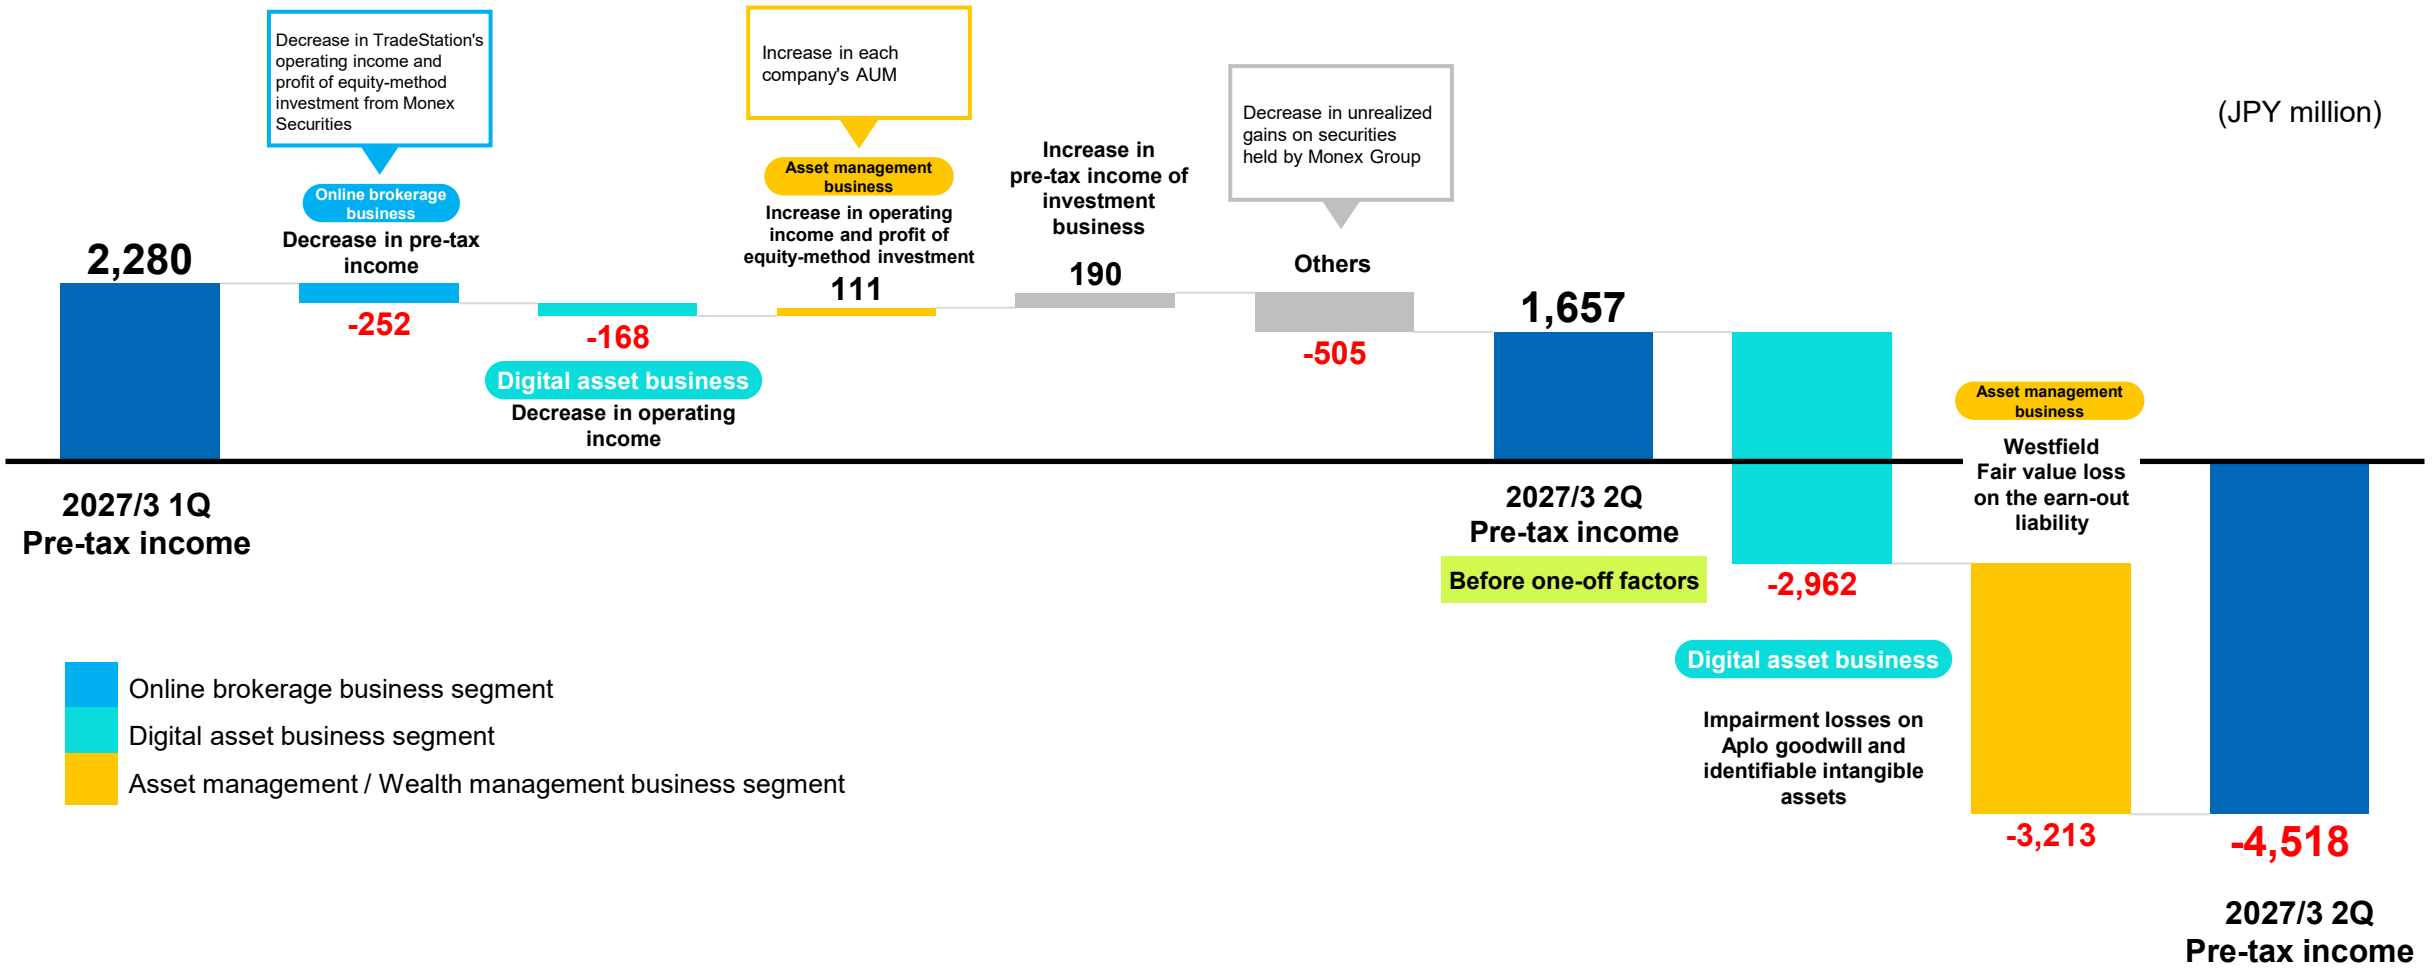

*1 Including 3iQ Digital Holdings Inc. to illustrate the asset management business as a business model.
*2 The AUM in the chart reflects figures adjusted for the Monex Group's economic interest, and it is shown as a quarter-end balance. It includes AUM of Westfield Capital Management Company, L.P., an equity-method affiliate of the Company.
*3 Adjusted net revenue is calculated by deducting fees received from funds by each asset management company and is presented on a basis that reflects the Monex Group's economic interest. Including performance fee.
*4 The number of AUM represents the average AUM for the quarter.
*5 Adjusted net revenue / AUM is calculated by using the numbers for the most recent 4 quarters.

Consolidated Pre-tax Income (QoQ)

MONEX GROUP

2Q consolidated pre-tax income was ¥-4.52 billion due to a one-off loss of approx. ¥6.18 billion. The underlying profit before one-off factors was ¥1.66 billion.

Westfield Earnout Overview

MONEX GROUP

Westfield's assets expanded significantly, driving strong business performance and an increase in the estimated earn-out payment, resulting in a valuation loss. Meanwhile, business scale and earnings contribution continue to grow ahead of the original plan.

Earnout Structure

What is an earnout?

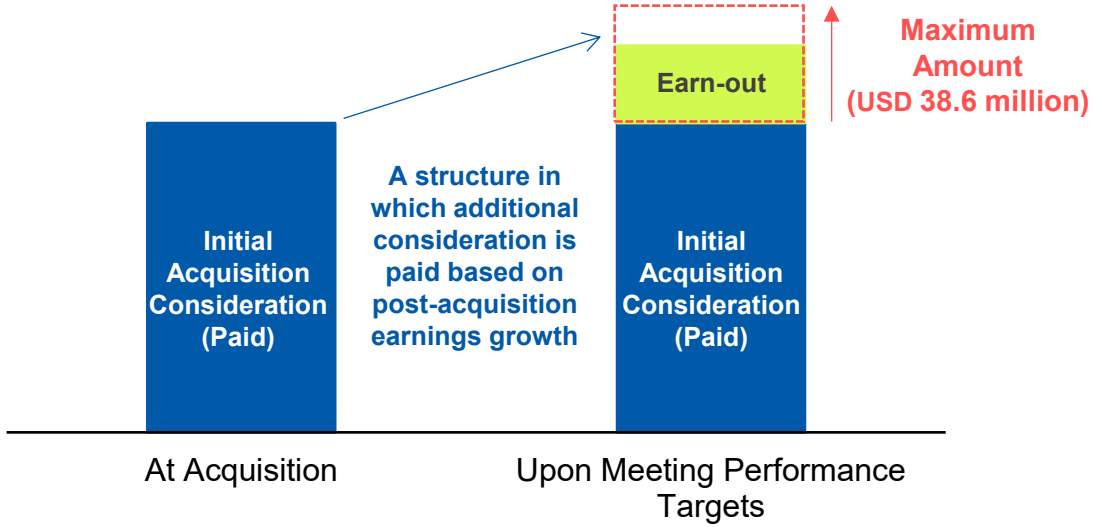

An arrangement to pay additional consideration upon achieving certain performance targets following an M&A transaction.

Westfield Performance Conditions

Additional consideration is calculated based on the achievement of annual performance targets over the three years from FY2025 to FY2027. The total earn-out is capped at USD 38.6 million.

Westfield Earn-out Payments and Valuation Status

The earn-out is remeasured at fair value semiannually based on revised payment estimates. No additional payment was made for FY2025. Total earn-out liability as of Sept. 2026: US$22.2 million (US$20.2 million loss recognized during the quarter).

Historical Trend of Westfield's Investment and Advisory Assets

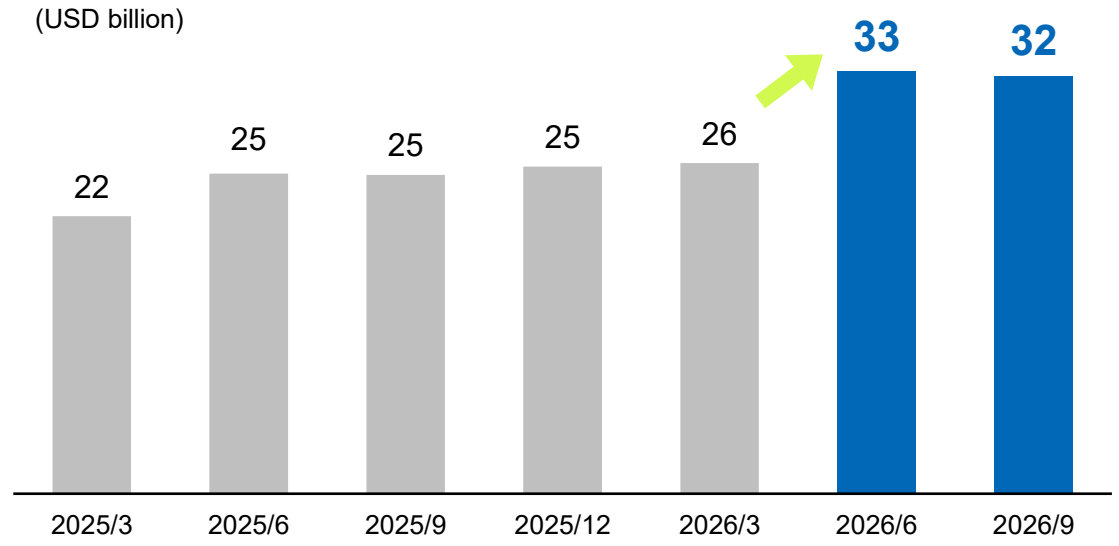

Rapid expansion of assets

Reached approx. USD 33 billion at the end of Sept. 2026.

Contribution to earnings

Strong investment performance drove the acquisition of large clients, contributing to growth in equity-method investment income.

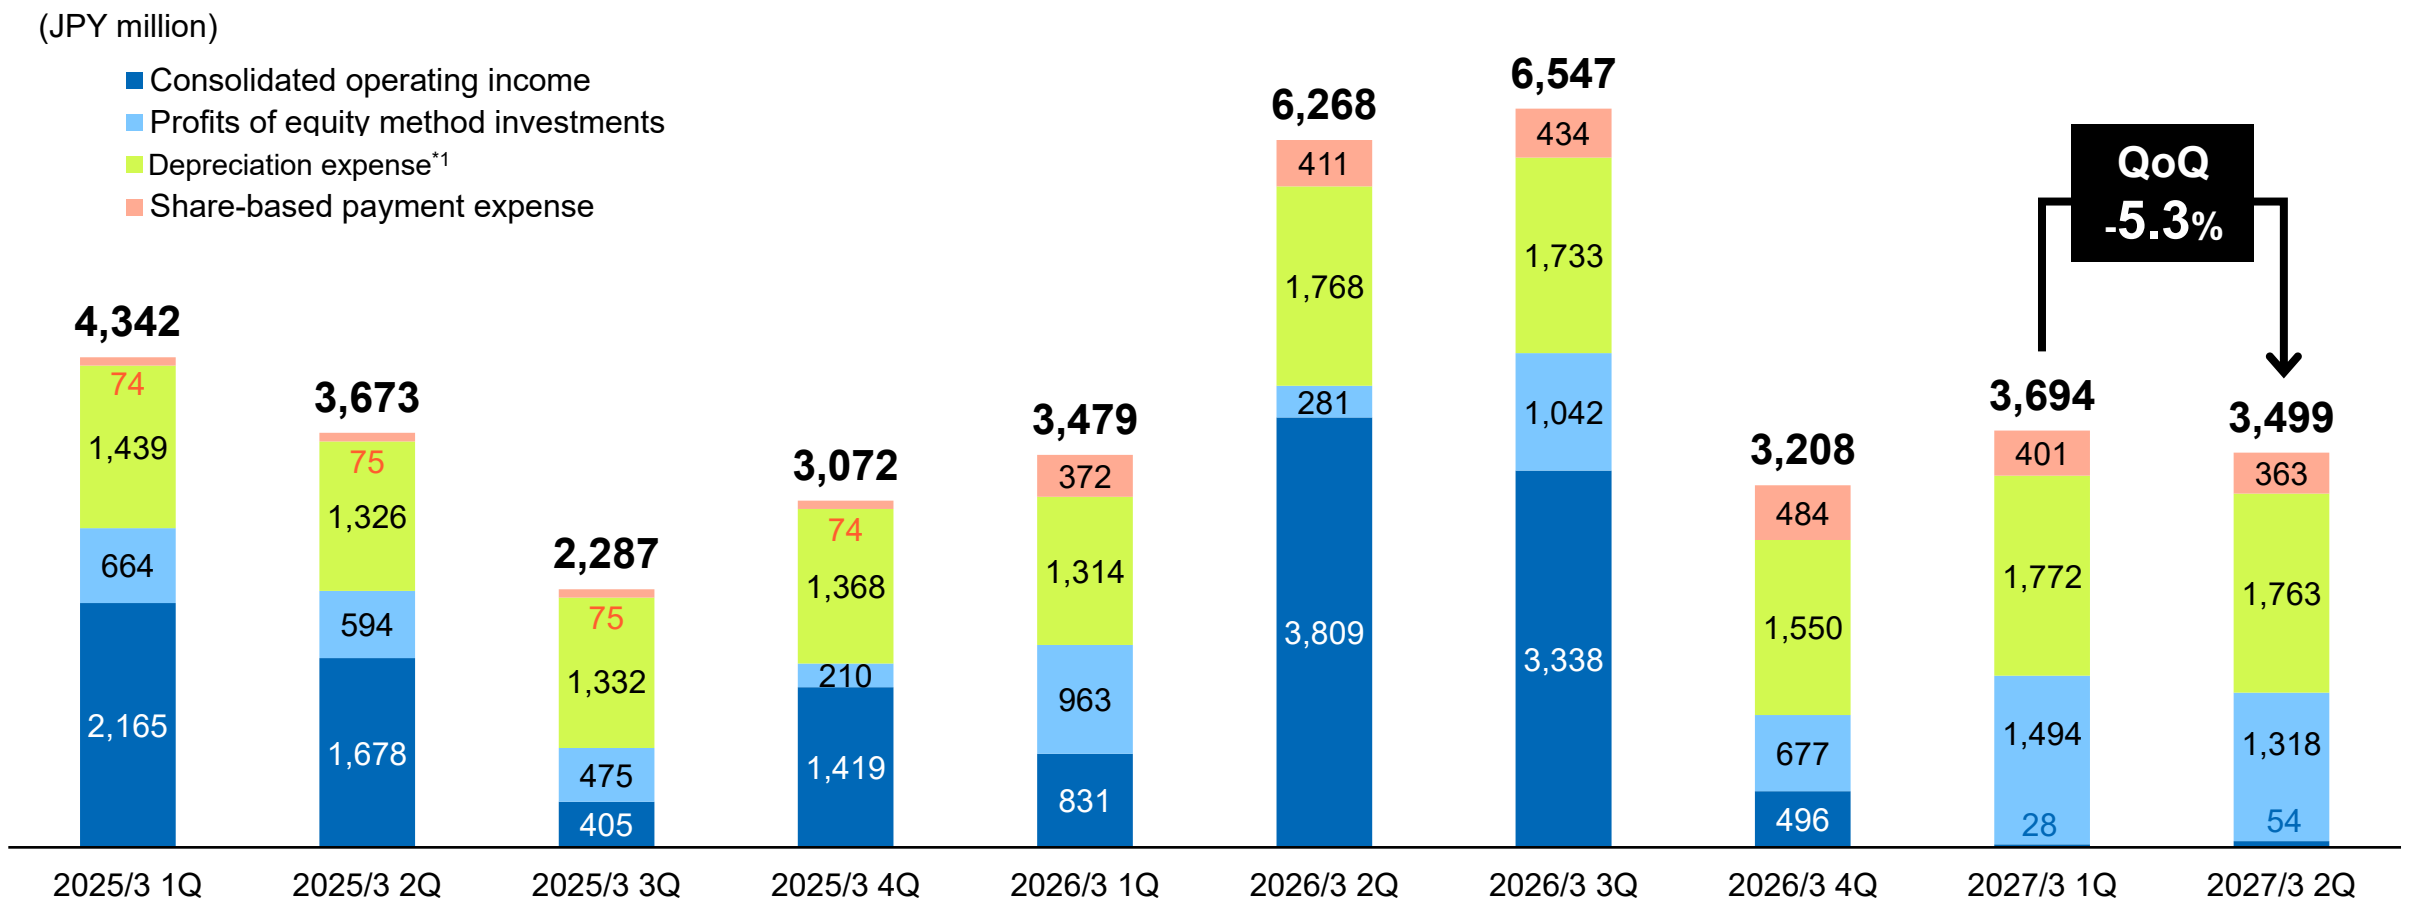

An increase in the earnout indicates that the investment is performing better than originally planned.

*See press release dated April 23, 2025: "Announcement of Acquisition of Stake in Westfield Capital Management Company, L.P. (Making Westfield an Equity-Method Affiliate of the Company)"

Adjusted EBITDA

Adjusted EBITDA (EBITDA after adding back depreciation and share-based compensation expenses etc.), was ¥3.5 billion (QoQ -5.3%).

*1 Depreciation expense: depreciation expense + amortization equivalent of identifiable intangible assets related to equity-method affiliates.

Coincheck Group's Roadmap 1/2

Coincheck Group is prioritizing core business efficiency, particularly at Coincheck, while pursuing growth investments and future international expansion.

Following the Binance Incident

- After the incident, Coincheck Group checked its internal wallets and confirmed that its wallets are safe.
- No impact on its business has been identified at this time.
- The incident came just as Coincheck Group began discussing its institutional business. It sees this as an opportunity and will build that business carefully.

Strategy: Fund. Grow. Replicate.

- Market: Japan retail trading volumes remain low. Coincheck Group sees a structural reset for exchanges, and its plan does not assume a price or volume recovery.

Key Strategy

- Fund: Core businesses (Coincheck, 3iQ ETFs, staking) become the cash engine. Cost optimization at Coincheck is the top priority. Aplo is being wound down and its technology moves into 3iQ.
- Grow: Launched crypto CFDs in late September 2026. Going forward, we are considering (i) offering traditional financial products, including U.S. equities, in collaboration with Monex Securities, (ii) launching a new SMA service for institutional investors through 3iQ, and (iii) building next-generation on-chain products in Coincheck Labs.
- Replicate: Take the model beyond Japan, with disciplined acquisitions only.

- Japan: Regulatory reform positions crypto as a financial product. A long-term opportunity, paced by regulation.

Source: Prepared by the Company based on announcements by Coincheck Group N.V.

Coincheck Group's Roadmap 2/2

Coincheck Group offers a comprehensive set of capabilities*1 required to provide crypto asset related services to retail, corporate, and institutional customers. The company aims to establish its position as a crypto asset platform and accelerate its business.

Roadmaps and Strategic Initiatives

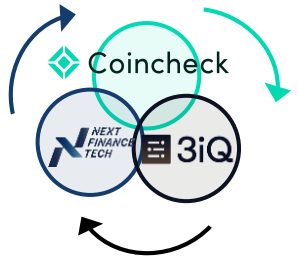

Completed to Date

- Acquisition of companies necessary to provide crypto asset related services.
- Strengthening of business for institutional investors.

3iQ Coincheck NEXT FINANCE TECH

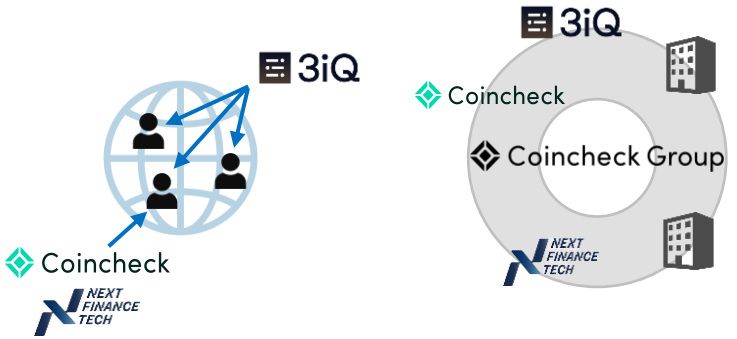

Current: Toward Regulatory and Tax Reform in Japan

- View regulatory reforms, including the amended Financial Instruments and Exchange Act, and upcoming tax reforms in Japan as new growth opportunities.
- Becoming a digital asset platform for institutional investors by leveraging group synergies.

Future: Evolving into a Global Platform Leader

- Global expansion

Completed initiatives:

- Acquisition of Next Finance Tech
- Transfer of 3iQ

- Acquiring customers through Coincheck CaaS.
- Developing products, such as crypto ETFs, for institutional investors.
- In-house development of staking.
- Establishing custody infrastructure.
- Acquiring Japanese and global investors.

- Cross-selling of staking, custody, and other services to clients acquired globally. (Expanding the platform into regions where 3iQ has established its presence.)

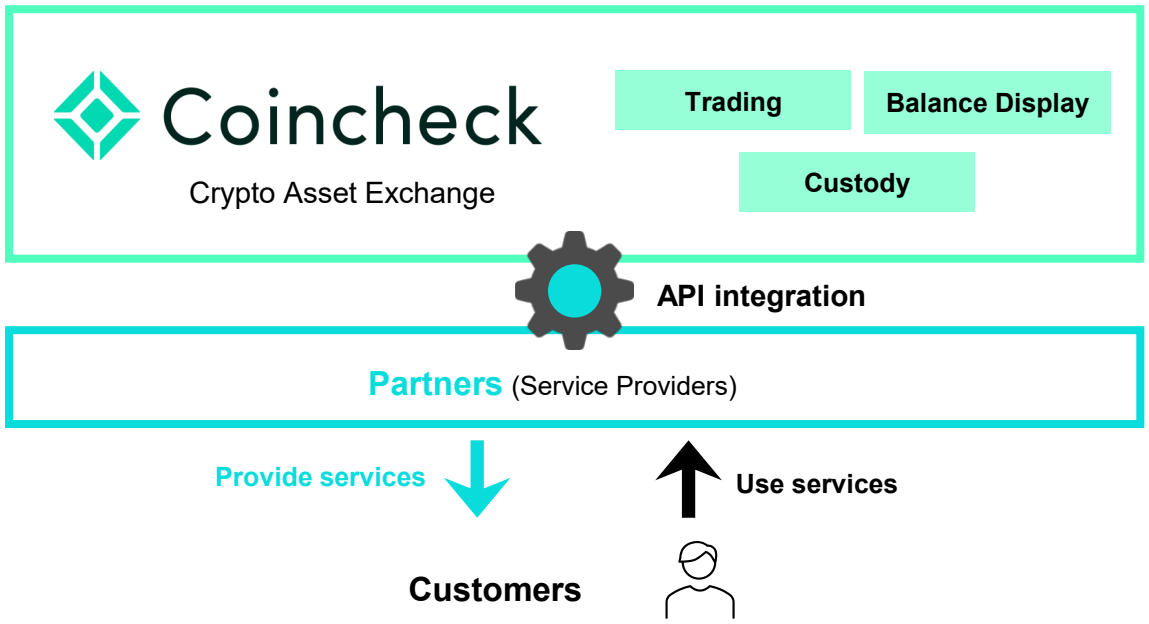

*1 Including the functions of exchange, marketplace, product design, custody, asset management, staking.

Coincheck 1/2

Through Coincheck CaaS,*1 Coincheck aims to strengthen partnerships with platforms and other partners to significantly expand its domestic market share.

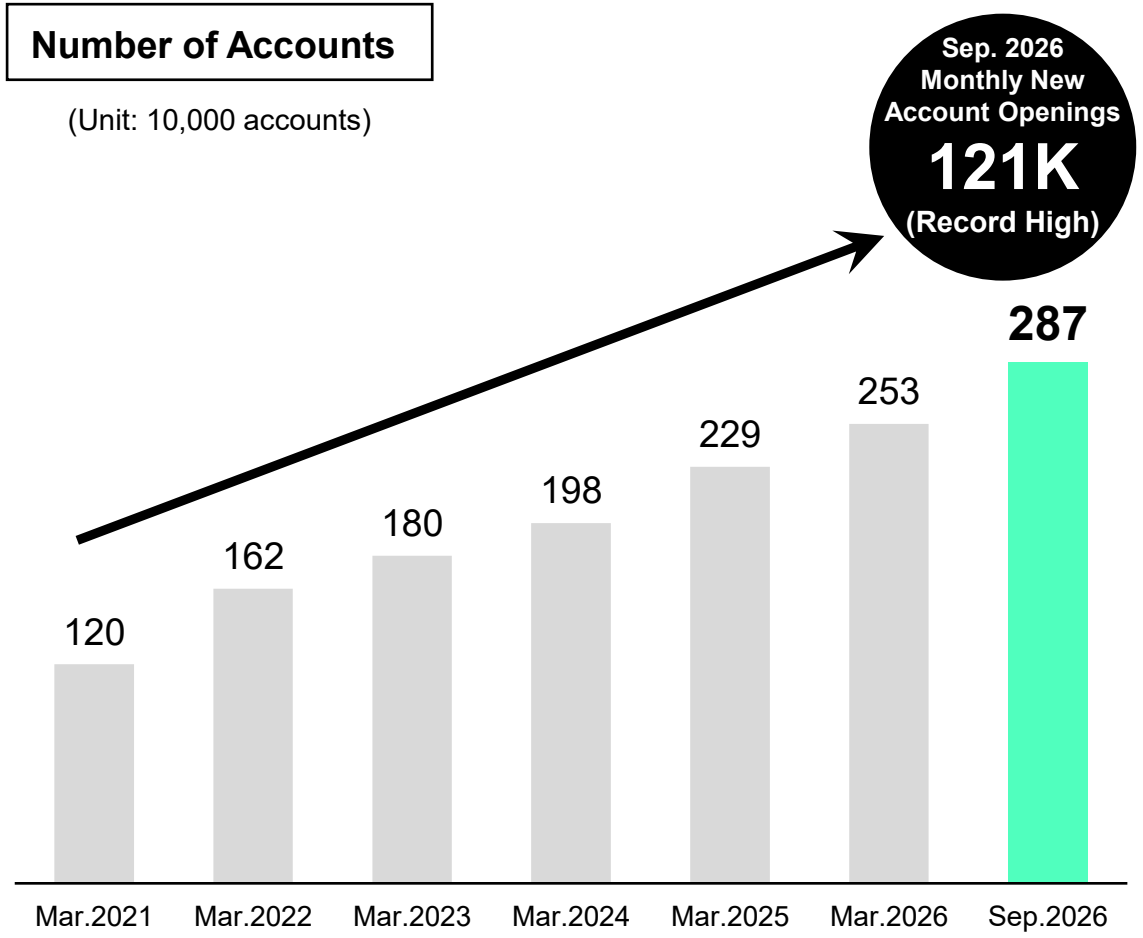

Coincheck's Strategy

- Enactment of amendments to the Financial Instruments and Exchange Act on Jul. 15, 2026.
- Expected tax reforms to support growth in crypto asset trading volumes.
- Coincheck is rapidly expanding its customers by leveraging CaaS model.

Number of Accounts

(Unit: 10,000 accounts)

*1 Coincheck CaaS (Crypto as a Service) enables partners and service providers to integrate crypto asset exchange functions into their services through API.

3iQ Digital Holdings Inc.

3iQ, with a strong track record in institutional digital asset management, announced a strategic partnership with Bhutan's Gelephu Mindfulness City (GMC).*1

A Strategic Partnership between 3iQ and GMC

- In Dec. 2025, it was announced that up to 10,000 BTC would be allocated from Bhutan's national holding to support the city's development.
- 3iQ secures a dedicated mandate to manage a portion of GMC's BTC reserves and provides long-term support including talent development and expertise in digital asset management.
- In Oct. 2026, fund inflows began.

*1 The Gelephu Mindfulness City Special Administrative Region (SAR) is a visionary initiative creating a world-class economic hub in southern Bhutan, centered on mindfulness, sustainability, and innovation. The SAR integrates traditional Bhutanese values with globally recognized legal frameworks, cutting-edge design and technology, while harnessing the Kingdom's abundant renewable energy resources to serve as a global exemplar of holistic development.

Market Environment

The convergence of traditional finance and digital assets is progressing worldwide. This is a new business opportunity for the Monex Group, which operates both securities and digital asset businesses.

Market Environment in Japan

- Enactment of amendments to the Financial Instruments and Exchange Act (July 15, 2026)
- Progress in discussions on tax reform premised on the amendments to industry regulations
- “Promotion of on-chain finance” included in the government's Basic Policy on Economic and Fiscal Management and Reform
- Announcement of a policy to develop an institutional framework to enable the structuring of crypto asset ETFs in Japan
- Progress in initiatives by major financial institutions related to tokenized securities, crypto assets, and stablecoins

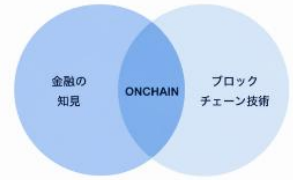

Global Market Environment

- In the U.S., the SEC announced deregulation measures for tokenized stocks in September 2026; major exchanges and securities settlement institutions announced their commitment to tokenization.
- Securities firms are offering crypto assets, while crypto asset exchanges are offering stocks, bringing their services closer together.
- There is a growing trend toward providing on-chain services such as DeFi and prediction markets through regulated exchanges and brokers in a manner that complies with regulatory requirements, such as identity verification.

Establishment of the Monex Laboratory for On-chain Finance

Recognizing these significant changes as a growth opportunity, the Company established the Monex Laboratory for On-chain Finance to research global standards for on-chain finance and promote its real-world implementation in Japan.
The Laboratory will focus on research on on-chain financial infrastructure and regulatory frameworks, structuring and utilization of tokenized assets and stablecoins, and other related initiatives, and explore building a secure and more controlled financial infrastructure.
